The halls of fame are open wide
    And they are always full;
Some go in by the door called "push,"
    And some by the door called "pull."

The entire student body wishes to extend its appreciation to the board of education for the time and energy spent in providing the best possible educational opportunities.

We are particularly grateful for the facilities provided in our new high school. Our stature as a student body has grown immeasurably during 1960-1961.

Several hundred people attended open house and dedication services at our new high school on Sunday afternoon, November 6, 1960. The time was appropriate as this was the beginning of Michigan Education Week.

The visitors were greeted by members of the National Honor Society who acted as guides for touring the spacious rooms of the new building. This tour concluded in the Home Economics rooms where the Home Economics girls served refreshments.

Every hall, room and window was polished to perfection to pass the scrutiny of the guests. Beautiful bouquets and baskets of flowers, compliments of the architects and Addison area businessmen added to the elegance of the occasion.

This event culminated many years of planning and study by the Board of Education administration, faculty and the Citizens' Committee. Needless to say, the community is justly proud of the fine new plant.

Dedication Ceremonies Open New Doors

In the formalities of the dedication, Mr. Donald Wakely of Wakely-Kushner-Wakely presented the building and Mr. Norman Hinkle of North Construction presented the key to Mr. Lawrence Marr, president of the Board of Education.

The new L-shaped one story structure covers 48,000 square feet was built at a cost of $10.70 per square foot or $513,574.48. The old high school building has been remodeled and redecorated. It is now the upper elementary building.

for Addison's Educational Growth

It is practically a law of life that when one door closes to us another opens. --Unknown

The dimensions of a year are not easily determined, but every year has its own measurement in time, events, people, and progress. The year 1960-1961 at Addison was no exception. It was one of growth and change. Through the wide doors of advancement, Addison High School moved into a new building with new surroundings. It is through these new doors we will present the 1961 PANTHER.

Addison Participates in Teacher Exchange Program

We feel we have been especially favored this year to have Mr. Kurt Fauster, an exchange teacher, from Wurzburg, Germany, as a member of our teaching staff. He has taught both English and German bringing to our students a better understanding of the customs, ideals, and people of his homeland; and inspiring them to a greater appreciation of language. Mr. Leslie Roberts has been in Germany this year teaching English and German to German students.

It has been a real joy to have Mr. Fauster, his wife Marta, and children Monica and Thomas in our school and Community. We hope we have made their stay with us a happy one.

There Is Nothing Like a Band

By beginning practice two weeks before school opened, the Addison High School Band was prepared to march in the Adrian Labor Day Parade and to perform at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit. The band gave precision marching exhibitions at all home football games and at the Tecumseh Marching Festival. They participated in the University of Michigan Band Day.

The band started its concert season with a Winter Concert in January and the District Band Festival in March. Many members entered the Solo and Ensemble Festival and received excellent ratings. In March, the band played at the All-County Band Concert. A Spring Concert, Memorial Day Parade, and Graduation closed the year.

MRS. MILLER--Advisor

Cheering the Panther Cubs on to victory were these girls from grades 7-10. The cheerleaders work hard not only at backing the team but as representatives of Addison Schools and community; whether they are guests or hosts.

Mrs. Miller keeps this in mind as she trains the girls in citizenship, leadership, and good sportsmanship.

SEVENTH GRADE CHEERLEADERS--Janet Mackey, Pamela Puvogel, Sue Kerentoff. STANDING--Sandy Hallenbeck.

The JUNIOR HIGH TRACK TEAM coached by Mr. Dieck presents their trophy for an undefeated season to Mr. Krueger for our trophy case at Honors Assembly.

Duane Kohlenberger, a freshman, receives an award and a warm handshake from Mr. McDowell. Duane ran the mile in 4:56 placing first in L. C. A. A. and third in All-County.

Carol Theisen and Sherry Marr complete a mural.

"Blue Hawaii" Becomes a Reality.

Plans, decisions, work, and time result in a successful J-Hop.

Orchids from Hawaii were presented each guest.

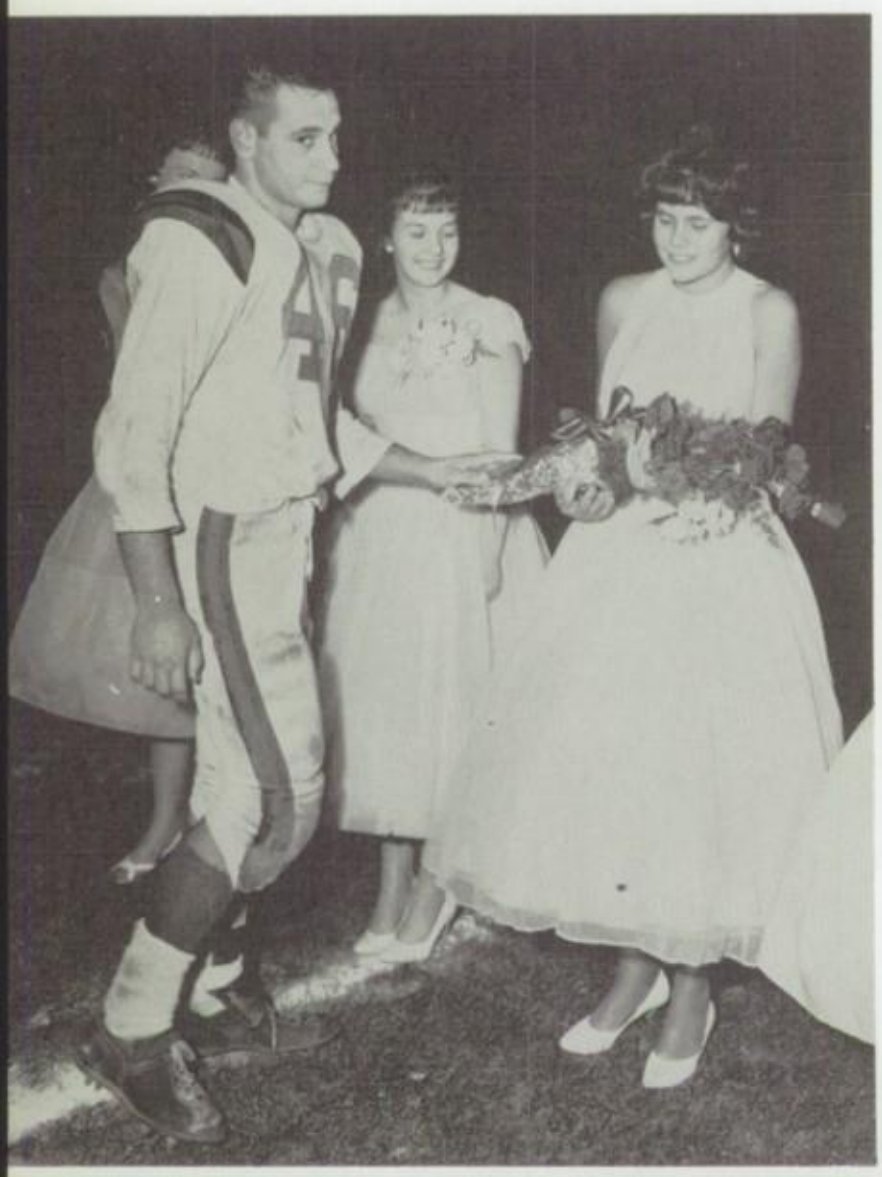
Junior-Senior Banquet

The Senior Class motto, "The Door to Success is Labeled Push," sparkled on the cafeteria windows while juniors and seniors participated in prophecies, giftatory, history, academy awards, and will. Toastmaster, Mike McCance, welcomed the faculty and students to the Junior-Senior Banquet. Senior sponsors, Mrs. Voorhees and Mr. Hitchcock were presented with gifts from a very grateful senior class. The evening was a success due to three basic ingredients - good food, good friends, and good fun.

Senior President, Dean Hyrkas, hands down the cane as a symbol of leadership to Junior President, Mike McCance.

Wanda Phillips, Judy Smith, and Becky Gallippo.

Mary Hardy, Cheryl Lee, and Sue Kerentoff.



Hours of effort put into floats and campaigns, whispered rumors of the identity of the 1960 Homecoming Queen, a snappy band performing for the afternoon parade and halftime events, shiny new cars pulling striking floats, and an after game dance with Russ Derby's orchestra, resulted in a bigger and better Homecoming for Addison High School this year.

Hard working football Captain, Roger Rutan, presented a dozen red roses to Queen Wanda Phillips to climax halftime activities. Wanda was the Sophomore class's candidate.

First prizes for Senior and Junior Division winners were awarded by the Student Council to the Junior Class in the Senior division and to the 8th Grade in the Junior division. The theme of the Junior Float was "Sail to Victory" depicting a black panther on a red, white and blue boat. The 8th Grade float "The Queen Backs the Team" illustrated a Queen's Court accented in sparkling silver. Riding on this float were Elaine Underhill, Barbara Carl, Cindy Koch, Sue McNair, and Shirley Varga. They were the nominees for their class queen. Mitchell Bowman carried the crown.

Addison was the host to Clinton's Redskins for the game.

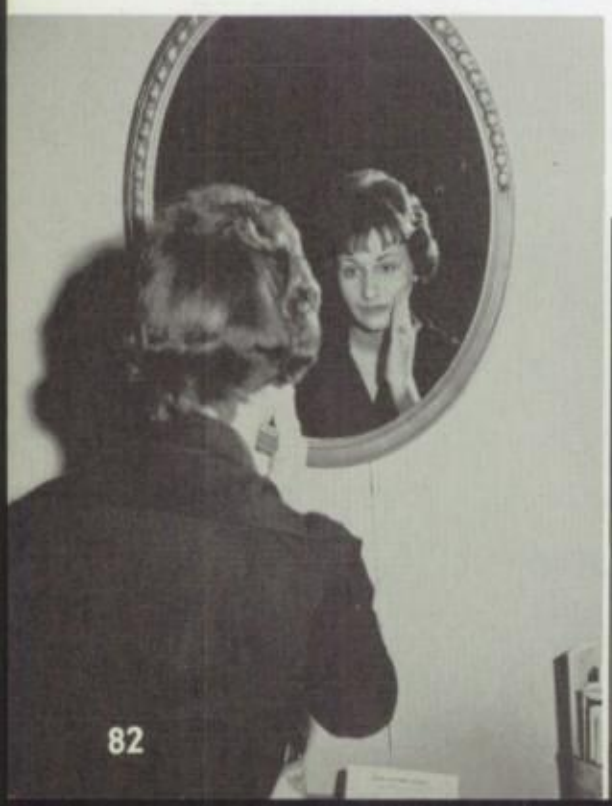
The Senior Class Presents: "We Dude It"

When Easterners, Mrs. Meacham (Lyn Hopkins) and her son, Bob (Bill Brame) inherit a Texas ranch which is managed by a modern Indian couple (Sam Hudnutt, Janet Marr) and old Charley (Richard Gordon), they immediately advertise it as a Dude Ranch. Before Bob can pursue Donna, (Mary Davis) daughter of oilman Thousand Barrel Pete Logan (Bill Townsend), the dudes begin arriving, an ancient movie star who still thinks she's a glamour girl (Mary Krueger), her rowdy daughter (Wanda Hallenbeck), her maid (Becky Gallippo), and her secretary (Nancy Munk), a geologist (Roger Beagle) and fortune hunter (Doug Pfister). These "characters" all add up to the craziest western ever to be presented by Addison students.



The finishing touches before curtain time

The Junior Class Presents: "The Adorable Imp"

The Junior class play "The Adorable Imp" was superbly presented by an able cast. The 'Imp', Sherry Marr, played various devious tricks which produced hilarious laugh situations. The supporting cast did an equally good job and provided the audience with many surprises.

Backstage make-up critics give advice.

Dr. Growt Recognition Day

In a fitting tribute to Dr. Growt for his role in establishing the Addison Community Hospital, Dr. Henry Crane stated, "An institution in nothing more than the shadow of the length and breadth of a man."

"This Is Your Life, Dr. Growt," was the theme of a memorable occasion when Addison and vacinity joined in expressing its gratitude and appreciation for the forty years of unselfish and untiring service extended to the community by him.

Mrs. Huffman's vigorous directing at the rehearsals, the costuming, the make-up, and the last minute 'peek at the house' climax at curtain call.

Enjoyment and satisfaction were experienced by a cast consisting of the high school chorus and community singers in presenting:

H.M.S. Pinafore

The stage setting and costume accessories were artistic complements made by the high school art department under Mrs. Miller's watchful eye.

This year's Science Fair was a tribute to our new school. There were 109 entries judged by Dr. Ray Pellet and Mr. Van Valkenburg of Adrian College.

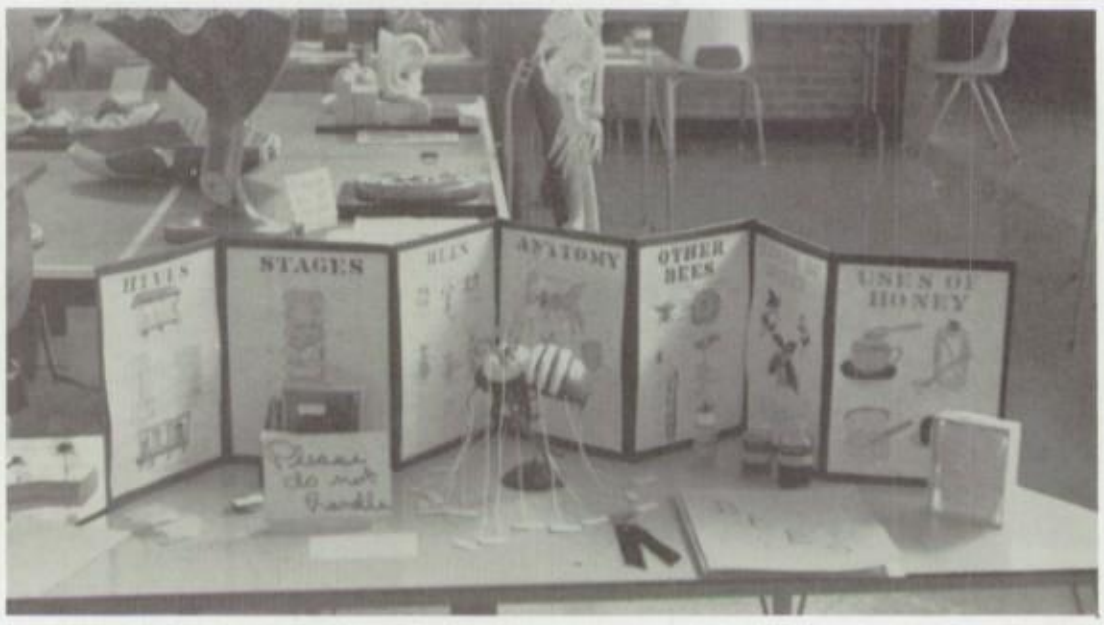
Entries from area fairs were invited to the Southeastern Michigan Science Fair at the University of Michigan. Addison's contributions to the fair belonged to Linda Galvin, Russell Franke, Cheryl Shepard, Bruce Harper, Bruce Hart, and Carolyn Hopkins. Carol placed second in the Physics Division.

The Science Department and the students feel that the 1961 Fair, Scientific America, was a huge success.



The Fair was held in the Honor Study Hall and was open to the public.

Our Key Club has grown in strength through membership and loyalty. We have lived up to our motto "We Build" and served our school and community well. During the year, we sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Dance, helped prepare for open house, assisted in the Dr. Growt Recognition Day, helped prepare the canvas for the gym floor and painted the bleachers. Our greatest contribution to our new high school, however, was a flag and flag pole to add beauty and dignity to our lovely surroundings.

Mike McCance accepts gavel and title from Ex-President, Marjorie Lee.

Insofar as possible, the Student Council is truly a representative body with members chosen by popular elections. In addition, each spring following a vigorous campaign, the Student Council President is elected by the entire student body.

The Council's first duty is the interest of those students comprising Addison High. During weekly meetings, problems concerning school life and suggestions for improvements, as well as new projects, are discussed and voted on.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY--FIRST ROW: Lyn Hopkins; Susie Cherry, Secretary; Janet Marr, Vice President; Bill Brame, President; Wanda Hallenbeck, Treasurer; Mrs. Annis, Advisor. The halls of fame are open wide
And they are always full;
Some go in by the door called "push,"
And some by the door called "pull."

So we began; now we pause to salute more students in various fields of activity who have qualified for our 'hall of fame'. Many students have been named throughout our book in connection with particular activities. It is our sincere hope that we have not overlooked anyone. We are confident, nevertheless, that every student in our school occupies a matchless place in our society and forms a chain that binds us into 'one'.

At a dedication ceremony in behalf of the Class of 1960, Joan Bergland presented the foundation plantings at the entrance of our new building to Mr. Lawrence Marr, President of the Board of Education.

Mr. Milton Porter, County Superintendent of Schools, presents Lenawee County's Teacher of the Year trophy to Mr. John Huffman, head of the math and science department of Addison High School.

Mr. Huffman has also been awarded a National Science Foundation Scholarship for one year at the University of Texas in Austin, Texas. He has been a teacher in Lenawee County for more than twelve years, ten of which have been in Addison.

CAROLYN HOPKINS, Salutatorian

We are here tonight participating in a traditional ceremony. Our caps and gowns, our speakers, our diplomas awaiting us, our band playing the graduation march, even our new realizations of ourselves as fledgling adults are traditional. The formality of this event causes us to appreciate the poignancy of tradition. Though we don't realize it, the thoughts and emotions that we are experiencing are traditionally in the hearts of all graduating seniors.

We are sad to be leaving our friends, proud to have successfully reached this goal, reminiscent of the last fleeting four years, and expectant of new adventures to come.

But here tradition ends. Each of us is preparing to "meet the world" in our own way, employing our best abilities to gain from life a satisfying balance of work, pleasure, security and risk. Our high school years have not begun to teach us how to cope with all of the problems of a responsible society such as ours, but it has been the hope of our parents and teachers that these four years would show us what we need to learn to become happy and well-adjusted adults. High school has been a valuable experience. It has, to a small extent, opened our eyes to the responsibility of the adult world.

But we have finished high school. We can still praise its merits, but we must look to the future. We must prepare ourselves for college, for our own life, and for our position in a community.

Each of us has a chance to give SOMETHING to the world. For some of us it's a new and stronger line of cattle, or an improvement in a corn crop. Maybe one of us will better the methods of accounting, author a political doctrine, or design a better automobile chassis. Possibly the discoverer of a cure for leukemia, cancer, or arthritis sits among us. All of us won't make headlines but each of us can give of himself to help others. It is the small gifts; the feeling of brotherhood, and the quest for peaceful living that are the real basis for our giant, powerful, and far-reaching democracy.

We have been a good class; we have worked hard and the ambitions of our members are high. The world is ahead of us.

Tonight, though, we are still among our friends and we feel strongly the new weight of adulthood on our shoulders. Still, we aren't ready to leave the fun and wild freedom of our high school days. We are growing up.

MARY KRUEGER, Valedictorian

Although graduation marks the completion of a course of study, we must all realize that it cannot be the final termination of our education because the future of our nation depends on the decisions we as citizens will make. It was once said by an ancient Greek that the foundation of EVERY state is the education of its youth. It is especially so in America where an ignorant man's vote is equal to a learned man's, for unless the educated voters are in the majority, who is leading our country? Interest in government comes through understanding, and understanding through education. In a democracy to be educated is more than a right of the individual, it is a duty.

How clearly stated are the responsibilities of Russian youths. They are educated by the state, whose sole purpose is to make them a part of the huge communistic machine. How much easier is the task of a Russian youth; so little reasoning necessary, and so few decisions to be made.

Our country was founded on the belief that men COULD govern themselves. Through the years thousands of men have given their lives to this belief. Now, more than any before, our generation faces a crisis. Can our democratic ideals withstand the pressure of a communistic machine; or will we sink into indifference and perish?

And as we, the Class of 1961, say farewell, this is the question we must answer. Can we care enough to ensure the preservation of our country for our posterity, as our ancestors did for us? And because we care, can we realize how necessary it is that our education does not cease with graduation, that it never ceases as long as we live in a free world?

More than a hundred years ago a British statesman said: "Education makes people easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave."

That is the kind of education we must achieve for America.
